FAMILY STEPS TO SURVIVAL

Family Plan

WHY?

Plan now, to avoid trouble later!

Do members of your family know the safest and most dangerous places in your home during an earthquake? Do they know where to meet if they're separated after an earthquake? Do they know how to report their physical conditions and whereabouts?

Many government agencies, schools and businesses have plans for earthquakes and other emergencies. Your family also should have one. The safety and well-being of your loved ones are important, so take time NOW to develop a family earthquake plan. If you've already developed a family earthquake plan, take time NOW to review and update it.

Consider the recommendations included on the reverse side of this Focus Sheet when you develop or update your family earthquake plan.

These are only suggestions for preparing your family. Use discretion and common sense in your preparations.

STEP 1

Your Environment

Safe Spots: Identify objects or places in each room that will provide protection from falling objects: Sturdy desks and tables Interior walls/corners
Danger Spots: Identify objects or places in each room that pose a danger during an earthquake: ☐ Windows ☐ Tall unsecured furniture ☐ Heavy objects on shelves ☐ Appliances ☐ Hanging mirrors/plants ☐ Pictures ☐ Ceiling lights ☐ Tall unbraced chimneys inside and outside the structure.
Evacuation Routes: Locate exits and alternate ways to leave your home should the need arise.
Utility Shut-offs: Show everyone where the shut-offs for the following are located: ☐ Water ☐ Gas ☐ Electricity
Teach everyone when and how to shut them off. Gas should be turned off only if you suspect a leak. Contact your utility company if you're not sure.
Special Provisions
Plan for family members who have special needs, including: Seniors People with disabilities Children Individuals who take special medications Individuals who do not speak English Pets
Make provisions for: Evacuation, if required Special foods Medications/eye glasses Life-sustaining equipment Wheelchairs, canes, walkers Strollers

Be sure to store such items in a location that's easy to access.

Meeting Plans

It's important that family members know where and how to reunite after an earthquake. Knowing everyone is alive and well will help family members cope with the situation more easily.

Include the following in your family earthquake plan:

Out-of-state contact

Meeting place

Policies of schools and day-care centers pertaining to:

Emergency shelter

Transportation

Care for children

Designate someone to pick up your children if you are unable to do so after an earthquake. Be sure to check with your school for its policies in reuniting children with parents.

Plan Responsibilities

You and family members will have to attend to many details after an earthquake. So will your neighbors. Get together and develop a plan that covers all potential problems. Assign specific responsibilities to each person based on their probable locations since it may be difficult to travel after an earthquake.

Complete, clip and give each family member the following:

Name:
Address:
Phone:
Out-of-state contact:
